Doorstep Delivery Drivers' Course

In light of the challenges the country is facing presently, DriveWise have developed a bespoke course specifically aimed at delivery drivers.

With home deliveries rising rapidly as more people work from home, additional drivers are being recruited to meet the demand. Many of these drivers will have received little training to cope with the demands of driving an unfamiliar vehicle, with added pressures of tight delivery slots and the risk of infection when interacting with the public.

Aim

The aim of the course is to give delivery drivers a better level of knowledge and skill – to enable them to operate the vehicle safely, whilst also keeping themselves safe and healthy.

Course overview

This online course will comprise of an interactive theory session delivered via a video conferencing facility where the DriveWise trainer discusses van related topics aimed at ensuring the driver is better prepared to drive safely and deliver goods with the minimum of risk to themselves or other people.

The session will be interactive, allowing each person the opportunity to discuss their role and how they might be affected when delivering goods to private and business addresses.

Duration – 45-60 minutes

Training ratio – up to 10 delegates to 1 trainer.

Delivery platform – various including Microsoft Teams, WebEx or Zoom

Subjects include:

- Observation/concentration
- Vehicle dimensions
- Speed limits
- Stopping distances
- Low speed manoeuvring
- Loading
- Doorstep etiquette
- Staying safe
